

Working at Dawn Health Dawn Health

Dawn Health is a digital health company specializing in development of software as medical device and other regulated healthcare solutions. We deliver both strategic consulting and development of innovative digital health therapies, targeting patients on a global scale. Working at Dawn Health is more than just a job. We are not looking for new employees. We are searching high and low for deeply passionate souls, gifted minds, innovators, team players, designers, entrepreneurs and people who believe they can change the world. We love to build things, change the status quo and drive a new digital health agenda that will impact a minimum of 1 million patients by 2030.

Since 2016 Dawn Health has grown organically and expanded its presence in the digital health industry with more than 40 innovation projects. In 2021 we expect triple digit growth, both in number of people and in the top line financial results.

Director of Product Strategy & Design

In the role as Director of Product Strategy and Design at Dawn Health, you will be part of the Management team in the company, oversee solutions across more than 15 chronic disease areas and help us redefine high-quality design in healthcare. Our design team is a mix of about 8 fantastic researchers, designers and strategists – people who are shaping and building products in collaboration with the biggest players in the life science industry.

Our design DNA

In 2021, we want to take our design processes in Dawn Health to the next level. This means embedding the international standard IEC 62366-1 into our quality management system. This human factor usability engineering process will allow Dawn Health to access and mitigate risks associated with use of regulated software as medical device. Digital products that can save lives!

Your profile

We look for a people person who can guide and mentor our team of strategists and designers to develop world-class healthcare products. Strong experience within human-centred design practices like user research, facilitation, service design, product design and a sound understanding of global cultures are required. You have a natural appetite to learn and if you have experience with digital health or the life science industry, we see that as a big plus. Most importantly, you are a deeply passionate soul, driven by an entrepreneurial desire to walk that extra mile, to do more and to change the status quo!

Your responsibilities

- Manage, coach and lead a cross-functional team of strategic designers, visual product designers and researchers
- Participate in setting the strategic direction of the company and optimizing collaboration across teams together with the rest of the Dawn Health mgmt. team
- Evangelize strategic design and good design practice in general – both in Dawn and in the Life Science industry
- Lead client engagements and ensure quality of our design processes in the project portfolio
- Support the business development team on pitching projects and writing proposals

Code to Save Lives

Working at Dawn Health is a purpose driven job. You will spend your time improving the lives of people with life-threatening diseases and complications. The value our products bring to patients globally means everything to us and they make the world a better place.

Dawn Health started primarily as a company with deep roots in engineering. Since 2019, we have been extending our capabilities to also cover Product Strategy and Design. The impact of disciplines such as extensive research, end-user validation and intuitive product design has been a phenomenal driver for quality and success. Now, we are ready to take this to the next step and become a world-leading digital health product design office targeting the life science industry.

If you are the perfect candidate for driving this strategy, we cannot wait to hear from you.
